A local student group has recently developed a website to connect New Hampton high school students and local business owners looking for student workers. Operation Now Hiring (ONH) is a specialized job posting site exclusively for high school students. Their goal is to facilitate student employment, enabling them to gain real-world experience at a younger age and assisting businesses in finding suitable candidates.

Currently, they are actively enlisting businesses on the site to provide students with a selection of opportunities. Student access to the website will begin on June 4th, 2023. ONH encourages you to add your business to the site at no cost, even if you don't have any available positions. For more information, visit operationnowhiring.com or contact Carter Cahoy at onhcontact@gmail.com or cartercahay@gmail.com.
